“Remember that ‘the battle is the Lord’s’ (I Samuel 17:47) and earnestly give the salvation of your mate to God in prayer. Early on in your conversion it seems easier to be hopeful concerning your husband’s salvation. You will need an added measure of faith as the years go by.”

Your mission, if you choose to accept it, is to stand in the gap for your mate’s soul. This small book is a powerful tool for any woman who is married to a man who does not share her passion for Jesus. Every woman knows someone who is struggling with this in their marriage. It will encourage and challenge the reader to embrace God’s promises for their spouse and future together. In this book you will:

- Discover how to believe with radical faith for your spouse’s salvation
- Learn the secret to “staying the course” while you wait for your promise
- Find out why many women don’t like to share their “secret sorrow”
- Overcome your own fears and doubts about your husband’s future with God
- Join other women in the knowledge that God has a perfect plan of unity for you and your spouse

The author applies Scripture and practical action in this must have book. Mission Possible – Spiritual Covering candidly portrays her quest over time to reach her husband for Christ.

Mission Possible was nominated for CSPA’s Book of the Year Award for 2009.
